POLICY

1. School profile

Noble Park Primary School services a residential area in South-Eastern Melbourne. The school was established in Buckley Street, Noble Park in 1911 and since then has undergone vast changes, socially and environmentally.

There are approximately 345 students enrolled. The school community members come from many different backgrounds, with more than 80% of students coming from Non-English Speaking backgrounds and 25% of students are from refugee backgrounds. The larger cohorts of NESB students come from Vietnam, Cambodia, Myanmar, Afghanistan and India. There are approximately 46 different language groups

We strive to provide a nurturing and challenging environment that empowers students to reach their personal best, both academically and socially. The personalised curriculum is delivered via a developmental approach (Kathy Walker), under the banner of Relational Learning. This mode of learning develops independence utilising Investigations F-2 and differentiated learning is facilitated through clinics and the students' Education Research Programs (an inquiry approach) in years 3-6. This ensures that the learning is at 'point of need' for each student, to support academic success and to develop social competencies and aesthetic awareness and skills. Learning is responsive to the changing needs of learners and the community. Physical and creative programs are also core parts of the curriculum.

There are specialist teachers in the areas of PE, Music, Art, Digital Technologies, LOTE (AUSLAN), stage ready teacher and two kitchen garden specialists. A further teacher is responsible for behavioural and engagement support. We also employ a speech therapist, nurse and community liaison officer in our well-being team. We have targeted engagement programs including, Hands on Learning, Future Foundations, Kitchen Garden, Stage Ready and Enhanced Learning.
